

Gradient

NEWS ALERT

Thank you to everyone who attended our presentations, These Kids Are Driving Me Crazy: The Science of Sensitive Subpopulations and Good Things May Come in Small Packages: Understanding the Potential Risks of Nanotechnology, at the 2010 DRI Seminar in New Orleans, LA.

Please feel free to contact us if you have questions about our presentations. For more information about the science behind subjects such as children's sensitivity issues or nanotechnology, please refer to either of our newsletters below.

Trends: <http://www.gradientcorp.com/pdf/trends/Trends32.pdf>

EH&S NanoNews: <http://www.ehsnanonews.com>

If you would like to subscribe to either of these publications, you may do so emailing mbraman@gradientcorp.com or by visiting our Publications webpage at <http://www.gradientcorp.com/publications/newsletters.php>.

For more information on Gradient's Services, contact:

Barbara D. Beck, Ph.D., DABT, FATS
Principal
bbeck@gradientcorp.com

Thomas A. Lewandowski, Ph.D., DABT
Principal Scientist
tlewandowski@gradientcorp.com

Gradient is an environmental and risk science consulting firm renowned for our specialties in Toxicology, Epidemiology, Risk Assessment, Product Safety, Contaminant Fate and Transport, and Environmental Chemistry. We employ sound science to assist national and global clients in resolving their complex problems relating to chemicals in the environment, in the workplace, and in consumer products.

(617) 395-5000 • www.gradientcorp.com • info@gradientcorp.com